Summary

Senior Product Designer with end-to-end experience in complex digital products, with depth in UX Strategy, Product Discovery, UX Research, and Omnichannel CX. With 13 years in digital products, 5 of them as a Product Designer, I structure problems, define experience strategies, and deliver validated solutions, turning evidence into product decisions and consistent value propositions. I've worked in large-scale retail operations, Martech and EdTech platforms, always dealing with complex journeys and multiple user profiles. Artificial intelligence is part of both my work and my process. I work on products with AI at their core and incorporate AI tools from research through solution exploration.

Experience

Senior Product Designer | UX Strategy

Feb 2026 – Present

Sellbie · Hybrid

- Conducted semi-structured interviews and internal process mapping to identify pain points and opportunities for platform evolution.
- Structured opportunity maps connecting problem, solution, and expected impact to support product and business decisions.
- Designed a CRM Diagnostic Report unifying 3 systems previously checked separately by CS into a single screen, with automatic Healthscore and a contact base generator, eliminating manual calculation.
- Designed a cashback intelligence ecosystem mapping 7 data dimensions during discovery, delivering 2 reports (ROAS and Pricing) adopted by 3 teams: Sales, Finance, and CS.
- Produced UX proposals with structured wireframes to explore and communicate solution directions to product and business teams.

Product Designer | UX Strategy & Research | Martech · B2B SaaS

Jan 2024 – Feb 2026

Sellbie · Hybrid

- Led discovery, user interviews, and competitive benchmarking of similar platforms to inform the redesign of a multichannel CRM and marketing SaaS platform for retail brands.
- Organized the information architecture with 100% of content mapped before reorganizing, using 7 heuristics as grouping criteria, resulting in a single sitemap approved by product and engineering.
- Redesigning the multichannel campaign creation flow, reducing it from 4 to 1 page, with a 43% drop in abandonment rate and 2x more campaigns created per session.
- Designed automated journey canvas from scratch: a 0-to-1 module with 20+ triggers and 3 native channels (email, WhatsApp, and SMS) at launch, with no legacy to migrate.
- Structured and evolved the Design System in Figma, collaborating with development to align components with the B2B SaaS product's front-end library.

Product Designer | UX Research & Product Discovery | EdTech · B2B SaaS

Aug 2022 – Jul 2024

Jovens Gênios · Hybrid

- Led an unprecedented literacy project on the platform: a 4-phase pedagogical architecture with 9+ question models per development phase and a single operational codebase shared between design, pedagogy, and technology, enabling predictive AI in literacy for the first time.
- Planned and executed usability tests in school settings with 1st and 2nd grade children, validating audio as a structural element across all interactions.
- Redesigning the Help Center with 3 independent navigation and content profiles, 2 distinct empty states by cause, and 0 dead ends: every screen with a defined next step. Structure reused in the Zendesk implementation.
- Redesigning the QR Code access flow, simplifying authentication and platform entry for elementary school students.

Senior Marketing Analyst | CX · UX · Digital Strategy

Dec 2019 – Nov 2021

Americanas S.A. · On-site

- Structured content and information architecture for the Americanas Mundo e-commerce (international marketplace), addressing the complexity of the Cross-Border journey.
- Participated in the experience design of the Soub! app (reverse logistics), structuring content organization and navigation in alignment with the IT team.
- Conducted customer journey analysis and benchmarking to identify friction points and opportunities for digital experience evolution.

Senior Web Designer | Digital Experience & Communication for E-commerce

Feb 2017 – Dec 2019

Americanas S.A. · On-site

- Structured content and components for large-scale seasonal campaign pages (Black Friday, holiday dates), aligning information organization with business objectives.
- Developed hotspots and emails in HTML with visual consistency across desktop, mobile, and app.
- Collaborated with IT and marketing teams to align communication, visual identity, and digital strategy execution.
